

22nd Annual UC Systemwide Bioengineering Symposium
& Biotechnology Industry Showcase
August 8-10, 2022 at Corwin Pavilion, UCSB

The UC System is the largest research university system in the United States, and California has more biotech and biomedical companies than anywhere else in the world. The UC Annual Systemwide Bioengineering Symposium represents the largest and only gathering of bioengineering students and faculty from all ten UC campuses. On day one, this symposium focuses on cutting-edge advances in the life sciences, networking, and industry talks. On days two and three, it features research presentations. Sponsorship of this event allows the sponsor to participate in the programming, receive recognition, and provide networking, recruiting, and professional development opportunities for students.
